Brett Christensen, Owner, CU Lending Advice

SPEAKER BIOS

Brett Christensen

Owner,
CU Lending Advice

Brett works directly with credit unions in the U.S and Canada teaching and consulting with professionals on various lending topics. His personal and entertaining speaking style have made him a popular speaker in the credit union industry. Prior to forming his own company, Brett worked for four years as a lending consultant and trainer for Lending Solutions Consulting, Inc. In addition, Brett is the former Chief Sales Officer of APPRO Systems, Inc. which purchased the Loan Link Lending Center. Brett previously managed the Center as President for three years. Prior to his work at Loan Link, Brett worked for the $680 million Clark County Credit Union in Las Vegas, Nevada. He also worked as a civil engineering officer in the United States Air Force. Brett earned a Bachelor's of Science degree in Civil Engineering from the United States Air Force Academy in 1987, and a Masters of Business Administration Degree from the University of Phoenix in 1991.

Don Arkell

Senior Consultant,
CU Lending Advice

Don first worked with Brett Christensen at Clark County Credit Union as one of his original hires and a member of his first sales team. While at CCCU, Don quickly moved through the ranks at the credit union, working in all areas of Sales and Lending. He eventually founded a CUSO owned by CCCU– Members Auto Brokerage Service, Inc. Don joined up with Red Rocks Credit Union in Highlands Ranch, CO in 2007 and helped RRCU to establish a vibrant sales culture while transforming the Credit Union from full retail delivery to offering 100% of consumer loans and member service through remote delivery channels. This effort drove down operational expenses, reduced the FTE count, increased loans, total assets and net income.

During the difficult economic times of the last decade, Don navigated the organization through the muddy waters of the mortgage business by overhauling the entire Real Estate Lending program. Focusing on the core values of the organization, Don completely rebuilt this vital area of the organization by implementing a successful Consultative Lending strategy. Don's efforts are credited with turning this failing area around and growing into the most profitable area of the credit union. Don's unique leadership style and passion for Sales and Leadership have made him a sought-after speaker, trainer and strategist. He works with credit unions around the country helping them grow their loan programs, organizational design, lending technology and strategic planning.

SPEAKER BIOS

Merideth
Miller

Agency Partner and Chief
Marketing Officer,
M2 The Agency

Merideth began her career at a niche marketing and advertising firm in Memphis. That niche? Bank marketing. The firm's unique, data-driven approach allowed them to not just track results, they guaranteed them. This infused in Merideth a strict edict that client work not only needed to be at the highest levels of the creative spectrum – it also had to guarantee measurable success. That company was scooped up by data giant Acxiom, where her unique analytic and creative talents were quickly put to use for clients including Citi, Bank One and Wachovia, to name a few. Her role there was to ensure client-side data and Acxiom-generated data were perfectly matched with the right creative strategies to guarantee those results.

In the early 2000s, Merideth entered the credit union space for a leading industry agency as Senior Vice President of Account Services, directing strategy for clients from $150 million in assets to over $5 billion. In 2010, Merideth decided to take her collective years of experience and focus on her own show, M2 The Agency – a digital marketing and advertising agency that thrives on growing the credit union movement with strategies designed to embrace culture while advancing organizations to deliver a member-driven, technology-focused experience.

Jon Ungerland

COO/Founder,
Daland Solutions

Jon Ungerland believes the core philosophy underlying credit unions is the plausible and sustainable model for preserving healthy financial institutions and promoting financially dignified and strong communities in the 21st Century. Mr. Ungerland is committed to vigorously exploring philosophical principles and technological concepts surrounding the privileged position credit unions occupy as centralized, trusted, community financial institutions in an era of disruptive 'innovation' and rapid technological transformation.

As an avid technologist he has worked to immerse himself in the technologies that impact credit unions and their members. Jon is an Ivy League intellect devoted to developing methodical, data-driven solutions to address any situation and has cultivated a team that specializes in journeying with credit unions to actualize their technological, operational, and strategic goals.
